FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Join local non-profit for free music workshops this summer

Oakville, Ontario, May 12, 2022 - Local non-profit Bandology is proud to present the first in a series of outdoor musical workshops in the park this weekend, May 14, at Bronte Park. The event runs 1-3 p.m. and is free for all ages!

This Saturday's workshop will feature Bandology staff teaching the basics of percussion and rhythm through bucket drumming. Future music workshops in the park will take place every other Saturday at Bronte Park throughout the summer.

"Bandology is proud to bring free music workshops in beautiful Bronte park this summer," says Bandology Executive Director and co-founder Lisa Michaels. "Music is a vital part of life and, no matter age or previous experience, bucket drumming is a great way to get active with music"

This event is funded by the Bronte BIA. Click here to register for the event in advance.

Workshops in the park are just one of Bandology's initiatives to get people of all ages interested in music and rhythm. Bandology is also hosting several day camps this summer after a two-year hiatus due to COVID. Band Camp for teens and Band Camp Junior will run July 11-15 in north Oakville. More information and registration details are at bandology.ca/band-camps.

Bandology is a Canadian non-profit dedicated to more music for more kids via education, collaboration and community. Based in Oakville, Ontario, it provides young musicians with more opportunities to play, learn and be inspired.
